Story: ■ United Global is a symbol of the constant merging of different cultures in a global trading system. Each star is a sign for each country on earth. However, despite the close links exist between many states make is, the connections are often more difficult than expected. Play it here except religious aspects many other things such as different lifestyles, the environment to name a few to a role. Because we are in the approach, but it's a long way still to harmonization, the upper part of the flag has not yet united with the lower to a joint.
